'He Was a Force to Be Reckoned With'

(Another Story Page 2)

By LOIS McNALLY

"I'M SORRY to hear it, he built us a good house."

This was the typical reaction last week in Pacifica to the news of the death in a Fresno auto accident of builder Andres (Andy) Oddstad.

More than 2000 Pacifica families live in Oddstad-built homes in the Linda Mar subdivision, plus nearly 200 more in his Pacific Manor apartment complex, Surfside Manor.

Eureka Square Shopping Center in Sharp Park is another Oddstad development. The late builder donated two park sites to the city—one of which was named in his honor—and gave land to three church groups.

Known as a builder of economy homes in Pacifica, he was widely praised by home buyers as an ethical builder whose homes could be depended upon.

ANDRES (ANDY) ODDSTAD

Just recently, Oddstad Homes Company had announced plans to develop a 600-acre holding east of Linda Mar into a 1500-home development to be called Park Pacifica.

The company has also been seeking city approval to build another large apartment development in Pacific Manor and had plans for a 37-bed hospital near the Edgemar Freeway.

ANDY ODDSTAD'S company first began building homes in Daly City in 1946. Ray Higgins, a long-time Coastside promoter, interested him in Pedro Valley and Oddstad began to develop the area in 1953—expressing a belief that it had great potential because of its proximity to San Francisco.

The first Oddstad-built ranch-style tract homes sold for less than $9,000. Oddstad Homes says its average sale today in Pacifica is in the $20,000 bracket.

Oddstad's choice of the Coastside to build low-cost homes is considered by many to be the key factor in the way the city of Pacific has developed.

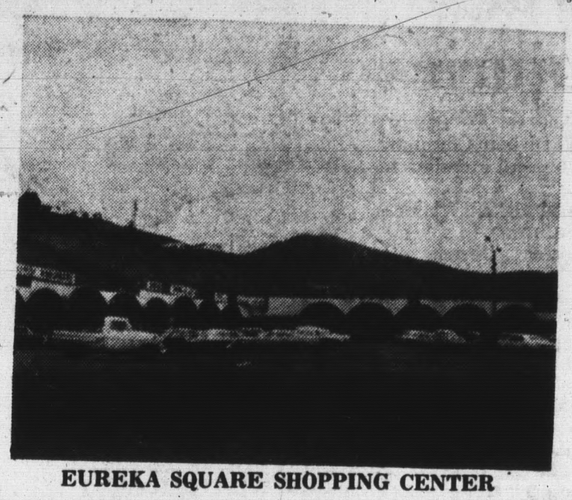

"There have been other developers who came over here," commented Mayor Harold Feyge this week, "but the important thing for us is that Mr. Oddstad stayed with it. He never stopped, he kept on building."

AMONG THE tributes to Oddstad last week was one from trustees of the Laguna Salada School District who praised the builder for his co-operation and interest in the schools.

The Laguna Salada trustees made special mention of the time when youngsters from the brand-new Linda Mar tract were being schooled in the "Oddstad convertible school."

This was a group of 10 houses located near the present Pedro Valley School used temporarily for classrooms and later converted by the builder into residences.

The trustees recalled an incident in December of 1955 when a heavy storm damaged the temporary classrooms and Oddstad sent crews of men to work during Christmas vacation to repair the buildings in time for the re-opening of school.

EUREKA SQUARE SHOPPING CENTER

"Andy Oddstad was one of the finest men I have ever known," says Higgins, who was both business associate and a close personal friend. "He was honest and straightforward and he was a very good builder."

Higgins adds: "Oddstad contributed more to Pacifica than any other individual, myself included, and I have been active on the Coastside since the 1930s."

ED TOMASELLO of the Daly City Recreation Department knew another side of the famed builder — that of the amateur athlete.

"The first time I met him was when he beat me in a wrestling match at the University of California in 1954," recalls Tomasello, who later worked out with Oddstad at the Olympic Club gym.

As wrestling commissioner of the Olympic Club, Oddstad was responsible for developing a championship team.

"He was a true amateur ath-

COMPROMISE REJECTED

JESD at an Impasse Over Salary Boost

By DON MILLER

The board of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District reached an impasse Monday night on a proposal to raise teachers' salaries seven per cent.

Earlier, a spokesman for the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' association informed the board that the association's general membership had turned down a compromise proposal that would raise salaries four per cent.

The compromise had been agreed upon by the district's administration and the association's salary committee.

District Superintendent Richard Foster reported to the board that the committee had then supported the compromise move.

The proposal included a provision for applying 60 per cent of any monies the state legislature might vote for schools this year toward bringing the four per cent up to seven per cent.

After Foster outlined the compromise and recommended it be adopted, Michael Pennings, representing the association, informed the trustees that the salary committee had been overruled by the association's membership.

He then read a formal statement, calling for a seven per cent boost and asking that a "board-citizen-professional staff be appointed to study additional sources of revenue" to pay for the salary increase.

Pennings declared that "the seven per cent increase is necessary to maintain our salary schedule in a competitive position."

Two of the sources of additional income recommended for study by a committee were a tax increase, which would have to be approved by district residents, and a special seventh and eighth grade override tax.

The override tax was approved by the legislature last year. It authorizes districts to tax residents for the difference in the cost of the kindergarten through sixth grade program and the

Cardinal, Hilt Resign Coast Posts

Rene Cardinal and Robert Hilt are resigning from Pacifica's personnel advisory board.

Cardinal, a recent appointee, said he is resigning because he plans to move to Nevada. Last spring. Cardinal was defeated in a bid for a seat on the Laguna Salada school board and recently he applied for an appointment to that board.

In a letter to city council, Hilt said he is forced to resign because of the time he must spend out of town on business.

The Pacifica city council meetnig was rescheduled for this evening after councilmen adjourned last week in memory of the late Andres (Andy) Odd-

TOP SCOUT HONOR

Belotz Awarded 'Silver Beaver'

Alfred O. Belotz, Daly City accountant and Boy Scout leader, last week received the highest honor an adult Scout official can receive — the Silver Beaver Award.

He and five other area Scout leaders were honored by the awards at the annual dinner of the San Francisco Council of Boy Scouts in the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

Belotz is chairman of the Lake Merced District of Boy Scouting, which includes Daly City. He is a Vice President of the San Francisco Council and a member of the Daly City Rotary Club.

Walter D. Heller, past president of the San Francisco Council, presented the Silver Beaver Award to Belotz.

The recipient has been in Scouting since 1940 when he joined a troop in Providence, R. I., as a tenderfoot.

He subsequently advanced through the various stages of Scouting, attaining Life Scout ranking in 1944 and Eagle Scout, the movement's highest honor, the following year.

After serving in the Navy during World War II, he settled in California and began a long career of volunteer work for the Scouting movement.

He became associated with the San Francisco Council in

Civic Center Consultants Retained

DC Financing Plan to be Prepared

By RON BATES

The City Council of Daly City continued to move forward this week on the purchase and construction of a new civic center at 90th street and Sullivan Avenue.

After hearing a letter of commendation from the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Monday night on the selection of a site, the council passed a resolution of intent to hire the San Francisco firm of Schwabacher and Company as financial consultants.

According to City Attorney Paul Hupf, the move enables the firm to prepare plans for financing the purchase of the site and construction of the multi-storied building.

"The resolution in no way obligates the city to use the firm's plan, however," Hupf said.

"Representatives of the firm have indicated that if the council decides to go to a bond issue or some other method of financing, there would be no charge for their services."

Hupf explained that the purpose of hiring a financial consultant at this time is to expedite planning of the new civic center by keeping several things going at once.

The city attorney also brought the council up to date on condemnation proceedings on the center site and asked for authorization to hire another appraiser to make estimates on the appraiser to make estimates on the market value of the land.

He said it is an "involved case" with 28 defendants.

In other business, the council approved a controversial rezoning application from E. T. Komsthoeft of San Carlos on property west of Wellington

OLD AGE CATCHES UP

Water Well at Jeff High to Be Abandoned

By LOUANNE HEATH

Jefferson High School's old and ailing water well will be abandoned, the board of trustes of the Jefferson Union High School District reluctantly decided Monday night. The school will shift to city water.

Trustee Lyle Ingersoll, long a supporter of retaining the school's private water system, threw in the sponge, however, and moved that the district abandon the well.

His motion drew a barrage of good-natured ribbing from his fellow colleagues on the board who cried out "it's the millennium" and "finally."

The future of the well, plagued by a creeping deterioration, has been a prime concern of the board for several weeks.

Both Fontana and Board President Elio Fontana had held out hope that it could be saved.

The death knell came Monday when the report of the Archer Pump Repair service was presented.

According to the report, the well, which has been in operation for more than 35 years, has a split casing and is taking in sand.

A larger, deeper well would be necessary to supply an adequate flow of water and larger storage tanks and pumps would be needed to rehabilitate the system.

The report estimated the cost of such repairs at approximately $25,000.

During the past months, the school has had to switch to city water frequently.

Under a new arrangement, the district now will obtain all its water for Jefferson High School from Daly City.

The vote to retire the system was four to one, Fontana casting the dissenting vote.

In other action, the board voted to go to bid on a hot water system and pumps to complete the adaption of the heating system at Jefferson.

Pacifica to Upgrade Its Apartments

IN FRESNO HOSPITAL

Oddstad Dies of Crash Injuries

Funeral services for builder Andres F. (Andy) Oddstad were held Saturday by Halsted and Company Chapel in San Francisco. He was buried Monday in Woodlawn Memorial Park.

Oddstad, 45, died in a Fresno hospital last Wednesday of injuries suffered a week ago Saturday in a head-on collision on a Fresno freeway.

The crash occurred when O. L. Morris of Fresno drove up an off-ramp and smashed head-on into Oddstad's station wagon.

Memorials to the famed builder began almost immediately.

"There would be no Pacifica as we know it today without the fortitude and foresight of Andy Oddstad," Mayor Harold Feyge declared in brief memorial services before the council adjourned its regular meeting in memory of the developer.

On a motion of Councilman George Mason, the council voted to name Linda Mar boulevard, one of the city's main streets in the area developed by Oddstad's firm, "Andres Oddstad Boulevard."

The council also decided that a plaque should be erected, possibly in the existing Oddstad Park, as a memorial to the developer who donated the park to the city.

Oddstad lived at 69 Catalpa Drive, Atherton. He is survived by his wife, Clara; a daughter, Sandra; a son, David; his mother, Mrs. Stephanie Oddstad, San Francisco, and by four sisters, Elma Oddstad, Mrs. Sylvia Haskins, and Mrs. Pearl Farkas, who live in Oddstad-built homes in Redwood City, and Mrs. Leona Gordon, Berkeley.

He was a native of San Francisco and a life-time resident of the Bay Area. He had a degree in civil engineering from University of California at Berkeley, and once worked for some of the builders he was later to surpass.

Oddstad's physician, Dr. Gus T. Kerhulas of San Francisco, reported that the builder had suffered head injuries, dislocations of both hips, and a fractured arm.

He had been trapped in the wreckage of his car for more than an hour, and never lost consciousness while rescuers worked to free him.

lete," Tomasello says. "He was a very able man physically and a tough competitor, but he was never a bully, always a gentleman.

"He was quiet and reserved, the kind of man who didn't have to raise his voice to show how tough he was. And you could take his word for anything.

"Andy Oddstad was the kind of man everyone would like to be. He never forgot he had been a carpenter and a good carpenter. He always had his feet on the ground, he was a good civil engineer, successful in business, an outstanding athlete."

Possibly a key factor in Oddstad's success was a trait Tomasello says was always apparent:

"He was very tenacious. He never quit in competition. He would just keep coming. He was a force to be reckoned with in anything he did."

Bates Gains Speech Award

Ron Bates, Post-Times staff reporter, was the winner of the "Best Speaker's Award" at the regular Thursday morning meeting of the Daly City Toastmasters Club in the Westlake Library last week.

In a simulated radio broadcast, Bates spoke on "America's Image Abroad." He defeated Merlin Porter, Len Johnson, Harrol Shelton and Ted Martinez.

Serving as toastmaster of the radio broadcast was Edward Harley.

seventh and eighth grade program.

The override tax had been suggested by Foster at a board meeting in December as a possible source of revenue.

As he did at that time, Board President Thomas Noonan criticized the legislature for authorizing such a tax. He noted:

"It's a nice way for the state to transfer the cost of education from the state to the property owner."

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas agreed. He observed: "In principle, I'm opposed to an override tax for I don't believe it's the proper way to finance schools.

"I don't think we have to kid the average person in the Jefferson district. He will support an increase in the (school) tax if it's needed."

A district resident, however, took issue with the opposition to the override proposal. Ernest Bloom of 27 Midvale drive, Daly City, declared:

"I don't feel this is an unwarranted tax. I feel our teachers deserve this salary increase. I ask the board—I beg the board—to approve this (override) proposal."

In the end, trustees decided to hold the salary question over until their next meeting and asked Foster to determine what the non-certified staff salary needs would be.

Scouting's Highest Honor

ALFRED O. BELOTZ, center, chairman of the Lake Merced Boy Scout District, is congratulated by Raymond Marks, president of the San Francisco Council of Boy Scouts after Belotz received the Silver Beaver Award, the council's highest award for adult Boy Scout workers. Looking on is Hursh E. Culley, Lake Merced district Scout executive. The award was made at the council's annual dinner last Wednesday at the Fairmont hotel.

In addition to Miss Pacifica, awards also will be presented to the first and second runners-up and to Miss Personality, who will be chosen by the contestants.

ment houses are too often not landscaped adequately once completed.

Other problems faced by the city, commissioners asserted, are the size of units and adequate parking. They said while Pacifica presently has some of the highest requirements in the county for apartment construction, that complaints are sill being received of overbuilding on some sies.

Members of the city's planning staff were instructed to bring in recommendations for specific changes in the city's zoning ordinance at the commission's March 9 meeting.

Most of the contractors at Monday's meeting were smaller builders of individual apartment houses, although the Boelger Construction Company was represented.

The commission received a report that a new application has been received for a service station at the intersection of Linda Mar Boulevard and Adobe Drive and still another one is pending in addition to an existing gas station already constructed. The problem had been referred back to the commission by city councilmen. It was agreed to delay consideration of the matter until a March 17 meeting when the entire four lots under consideration can be considered as one package. Nearby property owners originally protested vigorously the first station.

stad. No business was transacted then.

The controversial issue of whether or not to landscape the Coastal Freeway is expected to evoke a citizen turnout tonight. A petition with 75 names favoring landscaping has been submitted to the conucil.

Scheduled to meet with the council is Sylvester Evans, director of the landscaping branch of the state division of highways.

A request from the park, beach and recreation commission that the city acquire a 10-acre usable park site in the proposed Oddstad subdivision of Pacifica also will be considered by council tonight.

Other items added to last week's agenda include the status of the city's dance ordinance and a proposed drainage bond issue.

Avenue from single family, commercial and unclassified to apartment status.

Mrs. Charles Garry of 482 Wellington Avenue said bulldozers were already on the property, building a road even before the council officially approved the rezoning.

"It seems to me he has a lot of confidence that he'll get this rezoning," Mrs. Garry said. "It makes me feel he's sure of what's going to happen."

City Engineer William Chapman pointed out that the rezoning is downgrading the property from commercial to apartment and the applicant doesn't need a grading permit.

"Actually, he is going into a more restrictive zoning," Chapman remarked.

John King of 117 East Vista Avenue, expressed concern for the safety of the children in the area. He said he saw children playing with the equipment and sliding down the steep hill.

"If they're going to the expense of having heavy equipment come in to grade the property," King said, "they should be able to go to the expense of providing some security for the children in the neighborhood."

Chapman said there are other areas in the city "much more dangerous" for the children to play in.

To ask the developers to provide security for these areas would be "unreasonable," chapman said.

At the suggestion of Councilman Francis Pacelli, Chapman arranged to meet with King to Survey the area and see if something could be done.

Verducci to Launch Race

Former Mayor Joseph Verducci will kickoff his campaign for election to the board of supervisors at a testimonial dinner in his honor Thursday, February 6, at the Sheraton Villa Inn in San Mateo.

Verducci is running for supervisor from the fifth district, a post now held by Alvin S. Hatch of Half Moon Bay. Hatch has announced he will not seek re-election.

George Arabian of Hillsborough, chairman of Verducci's campaign, said plans are being made to accommodate 500 at the dinner. It will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased from members of Verducci's campaign committee. In the North County, they are Guido Rozzi, 589-7300 and Paul Hupf, PL 5-1411.

DALY CITY'S NEW MAYOR

He Takes the Reins Again

MICHEAL DeBERNARDI has taken the reins of Daly City government for the second time in his ten years on the Daly City council.

The 38-year-old councilman was elevated to the mayor's slot in one of the council's first actions of the new year. He succeeds Joseph Verducci, who resigned to intensify a campaign for county supervisor.

DeBernardi moves up from the vice mayor's position which he held for two years.

Since he was first elected to the council, DeBerdi has seen the city grow from 15,000 persons to almost 60,000 and became the second largest city in San Mateo county.

"So many things have happened since I came into the council," he said, "it would be hard to single out one thing that I could claim responsibility for."

He noted that the council has to work as a single unit and no one member can claim complete credit for anything.

"The councils that I have served with have been good," DeBernardi said. "They have brought Daly City to the position it is in today."

MAYOR MICHEAL DeBERNARDI

DeBERNARDI, throughout his tenure, has maintained a personal interest in the revitalization of the water department in Daly City.

A survey was made three years ago by an engineering consultant firm to determine the present and future needs of the department.

Now, two and a half years after the survey was completed and accepted, 85 per cent of the recommendations have been put into effect. One of them included instrumentation of the water system.

The instrumentation enmain water plant to tell at a glance the water needs of the city.

Looking ahead, DeBernardi sees the building of the new city hall, the development of Serramonte and the opening of Mary's Help hospital as the major events that will occur during his tenure as mayor.

Mary's Help hospital is due to next year and building construction begins in Serramonte in September.

"If the new city hall isn't built by 1966, construction will have at least been started," DeBernardi said.

The council has begun interviewnig architects for the new hall.

THE NEW MAYOR has been a Daly City resident for 28 years.

In private life, he is coowner with fellow Councilman Frank Pacelli of Westlake Stationers in the Westlake Shopping center and part owner of the Flying A station at Westmoor and Southgate avenues and the Richfield station at Lake Merced boulevard and Southgate.

He lives with his wife, Patricia, and their five children at 198 Lincoln avenue.

Michaeal, 18, DeBarnardi's oldest child, was an all-league football player at Westmoor High school last year. He graduated and recently went into the armed services.

DeBernardi's other children are Patricia Joan, 15, twin boys Matthew and Mark, 14, and Dawne, 7.

The mayor is a graduate of Commerce High school in San Francisco. He attended the University of Denver.

Jeff Addition Plans Get a Green Light

Key plans for the $270,000 final addition to Jefferson High school have been approved by the Jefferson Union High school district board of trustees.

Corwin Booth, of Falk and Booth, architects, presented the plans to the board, which had given approval to a rougher draft of the same work a month ago.

Only minor changes had been made in the over-all plan for four standard classrooms, a teaching room, two small classrooms, a classroom for special students, a choral room, two language laboratories, two electronics laboratories and a bus garage.

District Supt. Edward D. Morgan estimated that the board would be able to call for bids in June and that the buildings would be ready for occupancy by February of 1965.

In other action, the board voted to install carpeting in the new library and language laboratory at Terra Nova High school at a cost of approximately $5,500 to $6,600.

The board noted that district funds would be used to finance the carpeting, which will cover 493 square feet in the library and 90 square feet in the laboratory area.

Booth said that the carpeting will serve an accoustical purpose, and for this reason, woven wool with appropriate padding will prove more satisfactory than less expensive composition coverings.

Meeting Set In Fairmont

The first general membership meeting of the Fairmont Subdivision Improvement association will be held tonight in Pacific Manor school.

Fred Stearns, president, said that the new organization's constitution and by-laws have been drawn up and, after approval by attorneys, will be presented to the membership.

At the association's first open board meeting January 7, the slogan, "Gateway to Pacifica," was adopted by the board and members decided to publish a monthly newsletter to be called "The Fairmonter."

Office space for the organization has been leased in the professional building in the Pacific Manor Shopping center.

Broadmoor to Police Colma During Night

The City of Colma and the Broadmoor Police district have reached an agreement authorizing Broadmoor police to patrol Colma from 4 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Colma is policed during the day by Dean Lagomarsino, the city's one-man police force. At night, sheriff's deputies with unofficial help from Broadmoor police the area.

Harry Brown of the Broadmoor Police commission said Colma will pay the police district a fee for the night service. A contract between the district and Colma will be prepared by the county district attorney's office, he added.

Tax Figures Are Released

Cities and counties received $69,280,731 during the final quarter of 1963 from local sales and use tax distributions, according to George R. Reilly, first district member of the State Board of Equalization.

The sum, which resulted primarily from sales int he third quarter, was 9.3 per cent higher than that distributed during the comparable period of 1962.

By LE PACINI

HENRY DAGENAIS, a guard on the Terra Nova varsity basketball squad, has come up the hard way.

Hank, as his teammates felicitiously refer to him, is only a 16-year-old junior but he's lived a long cage life.

He also owns, perhaps, the best jump shot in the NPL, and therein lies Henry's story.

In Henry's freshman year, all of his friends went out for basketball except him. He had barely a nodding acquaintance with the game, was little and skinny and felt self-conscious on the court.

His buddies finally prodded him, however, to the point where he began asking Tiger basketball Coach Rich Burt if he could borrow a basketball to practice with on Terra Nova's outside courts.

Burt accommodated him and then one day in a jocular mood (he had undoubtedly won the day before) told Henry he wanted to see him work on a jump shot.

Henry was unfamiliar with the term.

Still being in an expensive mood, Rich genially displayed for Henry the rudiments of the jump shot and then told him to practice at least 10 of them a day and report back periodically to apprise him of progress, if any.

Good-natured little Henry assured Burt that he'd practice the jump shot faithfully, and he did. Every day he shot his 10, and then reported. He started out at two out of 10, and three, and took kiddings from Burt and kept trying.

When Henry reached seven and eight out of 10, Burt quit kidding him, and when Henry reported an unbroken string of perfect days, Burt frankly didn't believe him.

But when Henry turned out last year for the 120 exponent team, Burt believed him to such an extent that he called Henry not only the best lightweight basketball player he had ever had, but also stated unequivocally that Dagenais had a far better jump shot than any varsity player he had at the time.

Henry, though now about 5-9—in uplifts—and acquiring broad shoulders, still could qualify for the 130 exponent squad.

"He'd be the greatest lightweight in the league," says Burt, "but I need him on the varsity to help loosen up defenses."

Moral of the story: If you can shoot and work hard enough at it, all hoops, inside or outside, look the same.

Henry Dagenais can shoot.

NOT THAT it's important, but when you have a column to fill and you're reflecting for several minutes at a typewriter, you suddenly remember that Oceana's football Coach Jess Jones is the same ROTC officer at college who used to make you run all the time and bawl you out when you led your squad into the thicket.

Jones used to help Maury Dunca, who you may remember as a reserve 49'er quarterback in '54, we believe. Duncan, after being a one game hero against the Bears back in Chicago one Sunday after Y. A. Tittle had been injured, later went to the Canadian League and led it in passing one year.

Jones went into the Air Force, became a teacher, and that leads us to the present, and now that we're colleagues, by golly, we're gonna visit Jones some day—now that those bars are gone—and ask him how he ever put up with us.

WE'RE NOT against free enterprise but we think Kansas City's Charles Finley's carrying it too far with his apparent high-handed methods (he's accusing the American League of being high-handed, ironically) in his dealings with his baseball team.

There's no quicker way to kill a sports franchise than to leave it in charge of somebody who doesn't know the game.

People like Finley, who look upon their teams as trinkets and hobbies, don't belong in sports.

Charley knew the rules of the game, presumably, when he muscled his way into the Kansas City situation. Yet now he's saying Commissioner Joe Cronin and the American League owners can't throw him out if he fails to comply with their voted wishes.

When he was anxious for the franchise, however, he certainly didn't take time out to criticize the league's charter.

Finley walked in with his eyes open. He didn't become a millionaire so suddenly by being stupid. So he must have known when he got into the game exactly how it dealt with fast dealers.

If you want to play the game, you must follow the rules. If Finley doesn't like the rules, he should quit playing the game.

PREP NOTES: This isn't saying that Westmoor's a shoe-in for the NPL basketball title, but some NPL coaches confide that Westmoor trots out three or four strings of lightweight players they could use on their varsity squads . . . Oceana's Dick Warne and Terra Nova's Rich Burt are trying to do each other in with overconfidence. Every weekly paper in the area, at one time or another this early basketball season, has carried quotes from both Burt and Warne, with each one calling the other the league's dark horse contender.

GAME MOVED UP

They'll Meet At Westmoor

The North Peninsula Basketball League's co-leaders, Westmoor and Jefferson, both sporting spotless 2-0 record, will clash at 3:15 tomorrow afternoon for undisputed possession of first place.

The contest, originally scheduled at Westmoor Friday afternoon, has been moved up a day because of the scheduling of examinations. School will not be in session Friday.

Last week, Westmoor's Rams, the defending champions, won their second game of the season, easily rolling past Oceana, 68-58.

The Jefferson Indians, meanwhile, kept pace by turning back Terra Nova, 41-35.

In other action, the South San Francisco Warriors upset the El Camino Colts, 43-35.

Jeff Turns Back Terra Nova Rally

The Jefferson Indians rolled up a quick 24-15 lead at halftime and then withstood a second half rally by Terra Nova to down the Tigers Friday afternoon, 41-35, on the Indians' court.

The Tigers poured in 14 points in the final stanza in an effort to overcome the Indians' lead. Jeff tallied 10 in the stanza.

Sharp shooting by Bill Jones, Bob Molassi and Gary Mendoza of the Indians in the final quarter kept the Tigers at bay.

The Indians started the contest in fire engine style, running up an 11-6 lead at the end of the first quarter.

High man for the Indians and the game was Mendoza who tallied 12 points.

Top man for the Tigers was 5-9 Hank Dajenais who is playing his first season on the varsity after moving up from last year's C-squad. Dajenais scored 10 points.

Mason Leads Rams to Win Over Oceana

By RON BATES

The Westmoor Rams set the stage Friday for their crucial game with the Jefferson Indians tomorrow by downing the visiting Oceana Sharks, 68-58.

For the Sharks, it was a case of too much defense, too much board control and too much of Ram Jim Mason.

A second quarter outburst by Westmoor broke open a game which had started tight. Mason scored 10 points in the first half and that combined with his teammates' 13, gave the Rams a comfortable 38-21 lead at halftime.

The Sharks had managed to hang onto the tail of the aggressive Rams in the first quarter on the basis of seven straight free throws. The Rams held a slim 15-13 lead when the buzzer sounded.

Westmoor kept the pressure up after that and repeatedly intercepted Shark passes or gathered in errant throws off the boards.

Mason's streak continued in the third quarter and the Rams built up a 27-point lead.

Oceana came back in the closing minute of the third quarter and its rally continued throughout the final stanza.

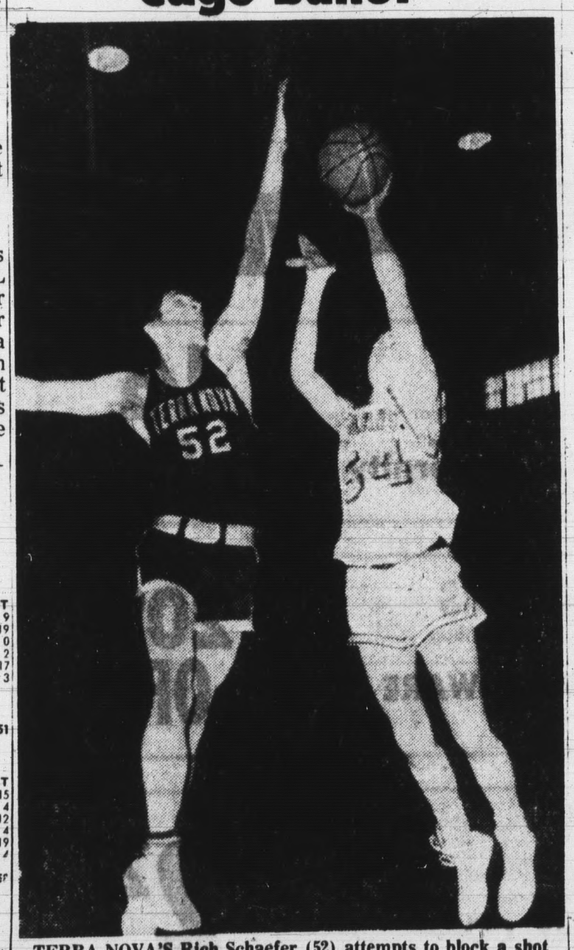

Led by captain Dave Breazealle and Bill Wipprecht, the Sharks exploded for 23 points in the last quarter but the Ram lead was too big to overcome.

Mason's 16 points gave him high point honors. He was followed closely by Wipprecht and Breazealle with 15 apiece and Oceana's Bill Skrifvars with 14.

Greg Sensiba of Wauwatosa, Wis., is the only heavyweight wrestler on the University of North Dakota mat squad.

Sea Bowl

THOUGHT THIS was kind of cute, I found it in one of our little bowling circulars. It goes to the tune of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

"Let us call you champion, you're the bowler of the year. Let us know your secret, cheers are sweet to hear. Keep those tenpins falling, for a trophy true. But leave a strike for us, pal, We enjoy fame too."

League News: Merchants 620: Jack Fronce bowling on the Leo's Lyons team had both game and series credits with a 214-599. Ron Bartizal, 201-549. Belles and Beaus: Gladys Bolton had a real beautiful series of 203-554. Joe Bolton had the big game of 204. Nothing like keeping it in the family!

Mariners: Dot Tigerman for the second week in succession took both top honors with a 176-484. Bea Kinsky was trying for a triplicate but missed out in her last game. Anyway, Bea was second in line for the big series of 482.

Kings and Queens: Bill Verna of the Ed's Union Service had both the game and series of the evening with a 224-611. Bob Fisicaro, 195-573. 870 Classic: Jim Buerke had a great big 213-616 for the high series, Chuck Reynolds had the big game of 234. Other big games: Art Ross, 222. Ron Jodsaas, 224. Hal Duncan, 223.

YAWNERS: Rita Harris had the high game and series of the day with a 173-453, on the A-Del Roofing team. Peggy Alioto had the first turkey of the day. Angie Dirks had a real nice 156 game on the Pacifica Tribune team. A-Del Roofing team is in the lead this week by ½ game!

Alleyholics: Sharlotte Stone had the high series of the day with a 181-505. Maxine Hill had a beautiful 200-503 for the high game. Tavern: Clyde Reinhardt of the Moris team had the big game and series of 209-558. John Jones, 197-553. Barbara Tosti of Coastside Meats was sporting the high series of the day with a 150-473. Shirley Neal had the high game of 159.

D.C. RECREATION LEAGUES

Pirates Win in Overtime; Warriors Trounce Saints

League openings and the last round of practice play highlighted activity last week basketball leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department. Here is a rundown of the action:

FIFTH GRADE
Short Division

The last day of practice games in the Short Division saw the OLPH Bobcats display a balanced offense and defense as they defeated the OLPH Condors, 10-6.

Mike Dean, and Paul McCoy sparked the Bobcats and Paul Martin brought the spectators to their feet for the Condors.

Jim Caldwell proved to be the margin of victory for the PAL Panthers over the Bender Roofing Kittens.

Caldwell tanked seven points as the Panthers triumphed 10-3 over the Kittens. Albert Abbott left a few claw marks on the Panthers but the rest of the Kittens could not handle the big cats.

Steve Javier set the pace for the PAL Jaguars with 10 points as they walloped the PAL Grizzlies, 38-6. Fred Ferrando followed him up with eight. Jim Fisicard accounted for all six points for the Grizzlies.

FIFTH GRADE
Long Division

The PAL Pirates shook off a poor start in the practice games and came up with a 15-13 win over the OLM Indians in overtime.

Robby Famberini, Indian star, put on a one-man show —scoring 11 of his team's 13 points. In spite of his performance, the combination of Billy Shubert and Mike Brandi proved to be the Indians' undoing. Sherbert hit for eight and Brandi for seven.

The OLM Bears showed their power again as they picked up a win over the PAL Cougars.

Dennis Carrodi led the Bears with 10 points and right behind him with 9 points was Dave Ewing.

The PAL Tigers opened their season with an easy 22-6 win over the PAL Rams. Smokey Morton, Vince Haymaker and Ray Kans shared high point honosr with six each.

The OLPH Arrows showed surprising strength with a 34-9 win over the OLM Spartans. Tim Denning proved himself a candidate for the Tri-City All Star Tournament by hitting 13 points against the Spartans.

Jim Nickil and Ken Storman were top men for the Spartans.

SIXTH GRADE LEAGUE

The PAL Bayshore Thunderbols edged out a battling Holy Angels Colts club, 3635.

Ralph LaMar, Thunderbolt center, racked up 18 points. Clifford Wong added 11 points to the effort. Tom Vasille scored 12 points for the Colts.

Pat O'Neill led the PAL Falcons to a close win over the PAL Royals. O'Neill accounted for 11 points in a 25-20 victory.

the OLM Gaels on the shooting

The PAL Bullets outscored the OLM Gaels on the shooting of Herb Acientano and the shooting and rebounding of Jerry Mahood. Acientano hit 10 points while Mahood hit nine and took everything off the backboard but the hoop.

Greg Sariotti hit 12 to lead the Gaels.

Colts Tie Warriors In Soccer

Play in the Peninsula High School Soccer League last week was highlighted by a fiercely contested 1-1 tie between the leading leading El Camino Colts and the South San Francisco Warriors.

The Warriors scored first in the closing minutes of the first half on a long shot by Sam Pretari, inside left.

That's the way it stayed through a tough defensive battle until five minutes left in the game when the Colts tied it up. Dan Wise, Warrior goal tender, slipped on the play and was unable to make a save.

In junior varsity action, the Warriors maintained their 4-year undefeated streak by turning back the Colts, 1-0. Pat Brill scored the only goal of the game.

The win was the Warriors' third of the season.

Eight straight victories in the 95 through 145-pound classes gave Oceana a 26-21 wrestling wn over the visiting Westmoor Rams Friday.

The Rams could not win a match until Flip Reade pinned Shark Alan Ferguson in the 154-pound division. The Rams took the remaining four matches after that.

Other Rams scoring pins were Ken Brice and Dan Hartman. Oceana's Bill Smith pinned Westmoor's Dan Blondell.

North County Notebook

By RON BATES

TRUSTEES of the South San Francisco School Board held a special meeting Monday to discuss programming for development of schools in the Westborough and Serramonte areas. The meeting came, finally, after all efforts to shed the area from the district failed.

The San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization gave the board the final word that it could not be done a couple of weeks ago.

A few years back, when the Christen Ranch was still being used exclusively for dairy farming, the South San Francisco Board met with the Jefferson High School and the Jefferson Elementary School Boards.

The boards made a gentlemen's agreement then that when the Christen lands were finally developed, the extension of Hickey Boulevard would be the dividing line between South San Francisco and the other two districts.

Everybody was agreeable until the Standard Builder-Crocker Land Company combine purchased the land and chose to annex the 916-acre financial plum to Daly City.

The combine, called Suburban Realty, hired planners, economists and engineers to develop a $200-million community called Serramonte. Included in the plans for the land north of Hickey were a 73-acre regional shopping center, a medical-professional building complex and several high rise apartments. In other words, the two Jefferson School Districts will get all of the tax producing projects.

For the southern end of the development, below Hickey Boulevard, the planners mapped in 1500 single family homes and several medium density apartment houses. It was done "to take advantage of the available sun," the planners said. In other words, South San Francisco got all the projects that will house school-age children.

The Southern District was naturally upset. As one of the trustees so aptly put it, "They (Daly City) get all the goodies and we get the crumbs."

The board then set the wheels in motion to dump all of Serramonte into the laps of the two Daly City districts. The laps wern't theret though, because seither of the two Jefferson Boards would sit still for it.

South San Francisco is loaded with industry and has a smaller student population. Jefferson Elementary, on the other hand, has only bedrooms to provide the taxes. The elementary district is second from the bottom in the county on money spent per child. Laguna Salada is the lowest.

Serramonte officials said at a luncheon prior to groundbreaking ceremonies recently that $13.5-million in school construction, excluding the price of land, would be needed for the area. Most of it will be in the South San Francisco School District.

IT WAS UNFORTUNATE that the Serramonte luncheon was held on the same day the Daly City Chamber of Commerce met. The special luncheon drew some of the Chamber regulars and all of the city officials away from the Chamber gathering at the Friar Room.

It was unfortunate because the Chamber speaker, Thomas P. Ludcke, a Daly City resident and an excutive in PG&E's Community Development Department, had some important things to say.

One point made by the executive was that the Chamber should correct the misunderstanding of businessmen that the Chamber is unnecessary. It should be larger and stronger, he said.

The Chamber has a membership of 170 and a potential of 600. Only about 20 people were at Ludcke's talk.

It's just like going to church. The people who would benefit the most by hearing a good sermon are the people who aren't there. They're still home in bed sleeping off a hangover.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH—Daly City Engineer Bill Chapman is a member of the Daly City Toastmasters Club, which meets every Thursday morning in the Westlake Library.

This group activity is designed to develop a person as a better speaker. The regular format of the meeting is varied quite often to make it interesting and last week's program was set up like a radio broadcast — complete with news, weather and, of course, commercials.

Chapman, who is one of the club's better and funniest speakers, was asked to give a SHORT humorous commercial.

Chapman took six and a half minutes — two minutes longer than any of the five regular speakers. That's short?

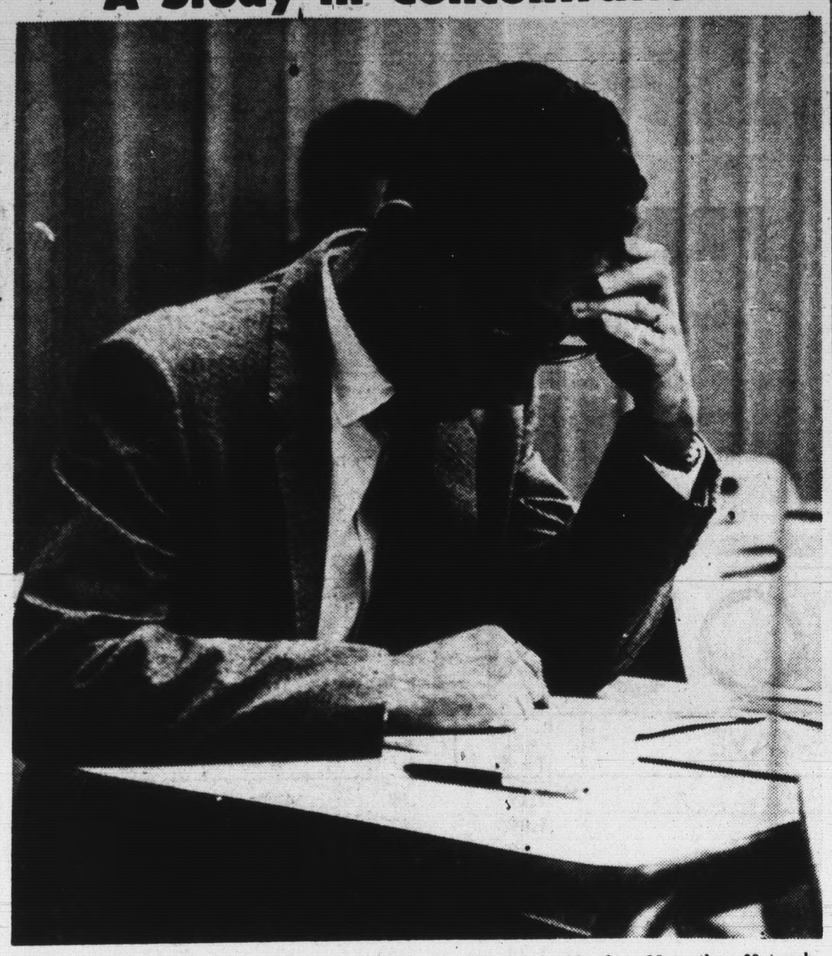

Another Daly City employee, Purchasing Officer Bob Evans, was manning the volume control of the tape recording and loudspeaker setup. Everything was fine until he left the controls to go into the broadcasting room to give a station identification. He just about broke everybody's eardrum by banging a gavel right in front of the microphone.

THE POLITICAL POT has begun to brew in the North County and just about the first outward sign of the activity is a sign in a Linda Mar Hardware Store reading "James Fox for Councilman."

Fox, who just stepped down as ehairman of the Pacifica Planning Commmision, has set up his campaign headquarters there at his hardware store.

A Study in Concentration

21 Classes Added To Adult School

Twenty-one new classes have been added to the Adult Evening School program of the Jefferson Union High School District, according to Louis J. Martin, principal of the evening school.

Registration for the school's Spring semester will open at 6:30 p.m. Monday at Westmoor, Jefferson, Terra Nova and Oceana High Schools. It will continue until February 14.

The new classes — including such subjects as tailoring and dressmaking, home planning and remodeling, income tax preparation and swimming lessons—bring the total number of courses in the program to 152.

Martin said tuition and special fees for most classes will again be nominal. A basic tuition fee of $1 entitles adults to take as many classes as they wish.

Materials, textbooks and supplies will be sold at cost to students.

In addition to the four high schools, three other buildings will be used for classes in the evening program: the Daly City Community center at Mission and Alp streets; the Bayshore Housing Office at 111 Iwo Jima Road and the N. Lipman School at 1 Solano Street in Brisbane.

More than 90 teachers will participate in the program.

Non-Veterans To Be Tested

The board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High School district, on the recommendation of Adult school principal, Louis J. Martin, have approved the giving of General Educational Development (G.E.D.) tests to non-veterans as well as veterans, 21 years of age or older.

The new policy will allow non-veterans to take the battery of five tests and if they successfully pass with a minimum score of 35 or more on each test, they will receive elective credit toward the high school diploma.

Martin stated that this step in the adult testing program will enable adults to graduate at least a year earlier than expected.

Registration for the tests will be conducted at the Jefferson Adult Evening school at 7, Monday evening in room 207 of Jefferson High school.

Scandinavia Film Slated

A film-lecture on Scandinavia will open the second annual Community Lecture Series, sponsored by the Jefferson Union High School district's evening adult school, at 8 next Wednesday evening in the Little Theater of Westmoor High School.

Arthur Dewey, a world traveler and professional photographer, will narrate a film depicting Sweden, Norway and Denmark. He considers the three countries among the most beautiful nations in the world.

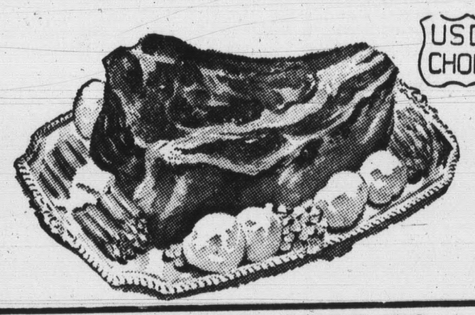

In the movie, Dewey has filmed the arts, handicrafts costumes, dances, festivals, customs and scenic countrysides that each of these countries is noted for.

Tickets to the program may be obtained by calling PL 5-1666.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

THE BEST SOURCE of recipes is a good cook. Fortunately for me, I have belonged for years to a luncheon group, "The GG's," and these gals are all good and artistic cooks so that each luncheon is a pleasure to the eye as well as the palate.

Just such a luncheon was served this week at the home of Mrs. Adele Forkgen at 3833 Lincoln Way, San Francisco. She was kind enough to share the entree and the dessert recipe with us.

Adele says this recipe came to her through a column and she has added a few touches of her own.

HAMBURGER STUFFED FRENCH BREAD

1 loaf French bread
1½ pounds ground beef
Three-fourths cup chopped onion
Three-fourths teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon salt
One-fourth teaspoon pepper
1½ cup bread crumbs
One-fourth teaspoon dry mustard
One-third cup chopped parsley
1 egg, slightly beaten
1½ tablespoon worcestershire sauce
Dash of garlic salt
1½ cup shredded cheddar cheese
Butter, melted

Cut loaf of bread in half; cut off ends. With fork, hollow out center of bread, leaving thick crusts as a shell. Reserve 1½ cups crumbs. In a skillet, combine beef, onion, oregano, salt, garlic salt and pepper and brown. Remove from heat, add worcestershire sauce, crumbs, mustard, parsley, egg and 1½ cups cheese; blend thoroughly.

Fill loaf with meat mixture; replace cut ends and secure with skewers. Brush with butter; wrap in aluminum foil. Bake in 400 degree oven 10 minutes. Loosen foil and continue to bake an additional five to 10 minutes. Slice and serve with cheese sauce. Serves 8 to 10.

CHEESE SAUCE

¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
Paprika

Melt butter in skillet; add flour and blend thoroughly. Remove from heat and gradually add milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and loses starchy taste. Remove from heat, add two cups cheese. Stir until melted. Serve over stuffed bread slices.

FOR DESSERT, Adele served a delicious lemon chiffon pie and the source of this recipe and the graham cracker crust recipe, is a beautiful little cook book presented by the Children's Hospital Gift Shop. The name of the book is "Cooking Is Exciting" and it contains recipes given by members of the auxiliary and the staff.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup water
4 egg yolks
½ cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons lemon rind
Whipped cream

Place gelatin, salt and half cup sugar in top of a double boiler. Beat egg yolks, add juice and water. Add this to gelatin mixture. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until the gelatin is dissolved—about five minutes. Remove from heat. Add grated rind.

Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat whites until stiff and add other half cup sugar and fold into first mixture. Turn into pre-baked pie shell (or graham cracker crust), chill until firm. Serve with unsweetened whipped cream.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST

12 to 14 graham crackers, rolled fine
½ cup butter, melted

Mix together and press into nine-inch pan. Bake 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Cool before filling with pie.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

LOTS OF music in the air this week and one of the happiest notes concerns the spectacular success of the first joint band concert presented by the four high schools of the Jefferson Union High School District January 17 in Oceana High School.

District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan was the master of ceremonies for the event, which he envisioned as the first of many co-operative events, and 200 youthful but proficient bandsmen participated with enthusiasm.

The band instructors from each high school took part, each conducting two selections. Howard Loeffler, Westmoor High School, got the program under way with "Colorama," "Deep Purple," "Autumn Serenade," "Royal Blue" and "White Orchid." William Whalen, Terra Nova High School, followed with "Chica Bum," and highlights of some of George Gershwin's very moody music. "An Occasional Suite" and "Passacaglia and Fugue" were performed under the baton of Terry Summa of Oceana High School. The program concluded with Richard Larson of Jefferson High School conducting "An American Weekend" and "Deep River Suite."

The youth and vigor with which the musicians performed and the pride with which they were presented by their instructors were heartening sights for adults.

THE PACIFICA Community Chorus is preparing for its first program of the new year, according to Mrs. David Marvin, publicity director for the group.

Mrs. Marvin announced the chorus is preparing to present "The Crucifixion" by John Stainer, Palm Sunday, March 22, at 3 p.m. in the Our Saviour's Lutheran Church at Rockaway Beach.

Kenneth Au Young, who recently led the choir in its sixth annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah," will again direct the spring concert.

New voices are cordially invited to join the group. According to Mrs. Marvin, all who are interested in singing this spring are urged to be present at the first rehearsal or to notify the director if they are not going to be present.

The interest shown at the first rehearsal, scheduled to be held Friday evening, February 28, will determine whether solos and choruses from the Easter portion of the "Messiah," which are already in the choir's repertoire, will be added to the Palm Sunday program, Mrs. Marvin said.

Scheduled rehearsals will be only four in number —February 28, March 6, 13 and 20. They all will be held in the Our Saviour's Lutheran Church on the Cabrillo Highway, commencing at 8 p.m. Mrs. Marvin requested new singers and present members who must be absent on the twenty-eighth to telephone or write Fred Lossman, 259-0783 at 983 La Mirada drive in Pacifica, to register and obtain more information.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:
I am 14 years old and last night I went to a party. The boy I was with is 16 years old and he was drinking some beer. He insisted that I drink one, too. So he opened one for me and I hated it, but they were calling me a babe because I wasn't drinking it.

So I pretended to drink it, just to shut them up. This was the first time he had ever done this kind of thing with me. I feel bad. I really like him and want to continue dating him. What shall I do?
L. N.

Dear L. N.

Do nothing—and I mean nothing. Don't go out with him, don't try to convert him, and don't try to help him. He will only tell you that you are wrong. He thinks what he is doing is grown up and makes him manly.

However, when he asks you (and I'm sure he will) why you are not going out with him any more, tell him. It will do one of two things. Either it will start him thinking or he will leave you alone. In either case you are ahead. You'll get over him and believe me, he will respect you more than any girl he has ever gone out with.

Ask yourself what you think of girls who drink. It is not the act of drinking or so much what you look like, but more the effect it has on your later.

It slows your resistance down. And you find yourself doing things you would never think of doing if you didn't drink.

If I were you and my friend drank and acted like that, I would begin being a little more choosy about who I called my friend. Never do anything you think is wrong just to be one of the crowd.

Because some day, one of the crowd might land in jail or in the hospital and I'm sure you would rather be the visitor than the victim.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:
We are a group of girls from ages 15 through 17 and we would like you to tell us all what you think of the dance, "the Horse." Most parents are shocked and say it's dirty. What do you think? Our school has said we could not dance it at a school dance. Why?
The Horses.

Dear Horses:

Why? I feel there is absolutely nothing wrong with it. It is a popular dance that is done by teen-agers. And like the bop, and mash potato, this too will pass.

I don't believe it should be banned — that only makes it more exciting and throws more attention on the dance. When the twist first started, grownups were having a fit. . .

Now, no matter where you go, adults up to 90 years old are twisting. So, I feel that if kids enjoy dance the horse, why not?

I'd rather see them dancing the horse than sitting on the side lines drinking or parked in a car somewhere. I've talked to the kids and they don't even think anything about it.

Most adults wish they could do it and in the privacy of their homes, I'll bet they try it.

Every teen-age era since the beginning of time, I'm sure, has had a form of this dance. During the 1920s it was the shimmy and Charleston. Then in the 1940s it was the jitterbug and in the 1950s it was the bop.

Teen-agers: If you have a problem or issue you'd like me to discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of The Post.

Terra Nova Topics

By CATHIE REED

POOR TERRA NOVA has been adversely affected by our recent rain storms. A Tiger couldn't go two steps in the library without tripping over a trash can, put there to catch the drips from the leaks in the roof. Just in front of the librarian's office there was a huge, and, unfortunately, leaky, garbage can—since that was the location of the worst leak.

A construction worker plunged 14 feet to a broken heel recently at Terra Nova. He fell onto the roof from a steel girder that will soon be transformed into the support for the third story roof.

TAU OMEGA, the Terra Nova speech club, has had a great deal of success with its last two projects. The January P-TA meeting got a glimpse of the work Tau Omegans do at a debate tournament. Mariann Flynn and Laurie Willey won three out of four debates at a tournament held January 18 at Mt. Diablo High school in Concord.

Many members of the speech club will participate in the individual events tournament to be held Saturday. Among them is the first official chief moderator of Tau Omega, Laverne Brooks.

THE GIRLS' LEAGUE is really getting started. The officers are in the process of setting up the many standing committees required by the league constitution. Their first service campaign, so far, is very successful—it is to clean up the campus.

From now on, every week that the campus is clean, school will be out at 2:10 p.m. on Fridays (half an hour early).

If, however, the campus is not clean, there will be no brunch on Friday. This solution is really doing wonders for the lunch area—especially the multi-purpose room.

THE FBLA is probably the most active and largest club at TN. The recent annual Northern Section of the Future Business Leaders of America was held at Manteca High School. Monica Kinsella, a Terra Novan, was chosen as Miss FBLA. Many other Tigers received honors for their achievements in typing and other business fields.

Volleyball Loop Planned

Planning continues for the opening of the Daly City Recreation department's Co-Ed Volleyball league for high school church groups. The league is slated to open Saturday with a round robin "Acker" tournament for all participating teams.

The league is open to all high school church groups in the area. Each team requires a minimum of three boys and three girls to participate in the program.

SAFETY ▲ FILM

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

A LITTLE MORE than 24 hours after Broadmoor Patrolman Charles Manning was fatally shot early this month, an 18-year-old youth sat down in his cell in the San Francisco county jail and took out two sheets of lined paper and pencil.

He thought a few moments and then proceeded to write a letter to Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage.

The youth had been arrested by Broadmoor police in a stolen auto last year and in the subsequent investigation, Savage was one of the officers who had questioned him.

A second officer who participated in the investigation was Manning and for Manning, it was a sad duty. For the officer had known the youth and had become his friend.

Subsequently, Broadmoor police were informed the youth was wanted by San Francisco authorities on a burglary charge. In an effort to give the boy a break, Savage dropped the stolen auto count.

The youth later pleaded guilty to the burglary charge and was sentenced to a year in jail.

IMPRISONMENT to the youth represented one more wrong turn on what was becoming an aimless—and lonely—journey along the road of life.

He had been abandoned by his father when he was ten and turned over to the California Youth Authority as a ward of the state. His outlook toward the rules of life's road had grown callous.

The tragic death of an officer who had befriended him, however, has changed that outlook. You see this between the lines of his letter to Savage. Here, by permission of this young man, is what he wrote:

Dear Ray:

I am writing these few lines in connection with Officer Manning.

Ray, as you know, I just turned eighteen. Well, I ended up pretty lousy, a year in here for burglary.

Well anyhow, Ray, I would like to send my deepest regrets to Mr. Mannings' widow. I would like for her to know that she had a great husband as far as I am concerned.

He was one of the only cops that has ever treated me really decent. He never treated me as a "young punk kid." He treated me as a regular guy.

A few times, he gave me a ride home, to my room on Southgate, when the transit stopped running. He always asked "how I was doing," "if I needed anything" or "if there was anything bothering me."

He always treated me real decent. I have been raised in the California Youth Authority and you know that Y. A. parolees don't exactly love cops. I don't hate them. But I don't exactly like them either because not many have treated me very well.

But Mr. Manning wasn't only a cop. He was a swell guy. I learned to have a little respect for you guys by the way he treated me. I used to figure that you guys were a bunch of hero hunters.

I have learned that most of you guys are regular guys, doing your job. Somebody has to keep us in line, don't they?

I want to live in Broadmoor Village again when I am released.

This is the end of my criminal life, Ray. I want a trade and want to support a family of my own as I never had any. This is my last trouble.

Please tell Mrs. Manning that I am deeply sorry for her husband's death. I know that she should be very proud of Mr. Manning.

I will include him in each of my prayers each night. I hope that this letter will help Mrs. Manning.

Respectfully yours . . .

There really isn't very much you can say—or want to say—after a letter like that. Chief Savage didn't have much to say either.

But you could sense that behind the Broadmoor badge and the peaked, blue cap, the chief had been deeply touched by this young man's soul-searching change of course.

A FUND in memory of Patrolman Manning is nearing the $5000 mark and contributions still will be gratefully received at Broadmoor police headquarters or at any police headquarters in the state.

The fund got a big boost from the Peninsula Peace Officers' association last week when the association presented a check for $500—the biggest single gift turned over to the fund until that time.

The fund will be used to help support and educate Manning's nine-year-old daughter, Lisa.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Apparently a considerable bit of history if you're Micheal R. DeBernardi, the new mayor of Daly City.

His honor has one of those first names that is the scourge of newspaper reporters, editors and typesetters. Enough, in fact, to make you voluntarily walk to the blackboard and write it several hundred times.

DeBernardi spells his first name with the "e" before the "a," which, as anybody will tell you, is most irregular. To say the least.

This cart before the horse monkey business all started back in the days when his honor was in the employ of Uncle Sam, engaged with others in the defense of the Republic.

Early in this employment, the army for some enigmatic reason that will probably remain a mystery for future DeBernardi generations as well, began spelling Michael as "Micheal." On everything.

That is, on every document, record, dog tag, muster list and so on that the army uses to keep track of every dogface in the ranks.

DeBernardi, as you can well appreciate, became rather disturbed with this reconstruction of his first name—without permission in writing even—and sought to hoist that "a" back over in front of the "e."

An adjutant general, however, sagely shook his head and advised the future mayor that the chances of altering ALL those records was downright poor and that at that stage of the proceedings, DeBernardi would be wise to leave the transposition alone.

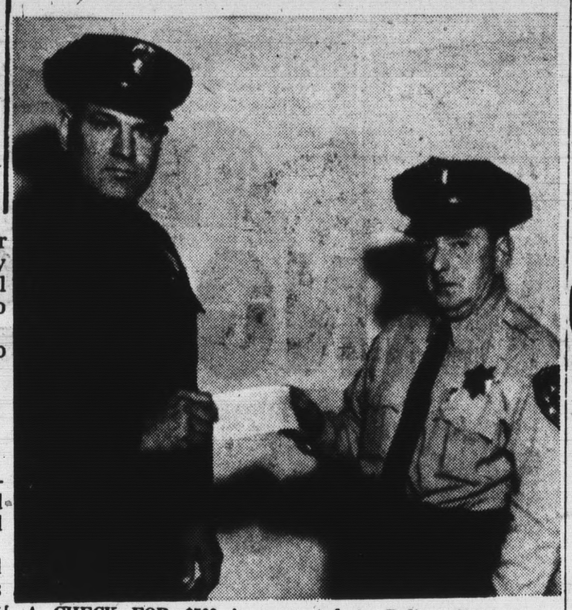

So he did and rather than revert to the old Michael DeBernardi after he was discharged, his honor adopted the radical spelling, which has stuck—and stumped—to this day.

Which would be all right if the mayor had let it go at that. But he got so used to the "e" before the "a" that he and the missus forthwith named their first born "Micheal" to carry on this pioneer name.

Well, Micheal Jr., is in the service now and he must be absolutely agog over the possibility that somebody will goof again and that the "e" will once again be riding astern of the "a."

Then watch the editors and the typesetters tear their hair when they struggle through a story about father and son. They'll think the DeBernardis are at war with each other.

In Memoriam

A CHECK FOR $500 is presented to Police Chief Ray Savage (right) for the Patrolman Charles Manning Memorial fund by John Van Otten, first vice president of the Peninsula Peace Officers' association. Van Otten is a Daly City patrolman. The fund, which is nearing the $5000 mark, was established to aid the survivors of Broadmoor Patrolman Charles Manning who was fatally shot during a burglary investigation January 6. (Post-Times photo)

Two D.C. Men Replaced on Commissions

Two Daly City men have been replaced on county commissions.

Arthur G. Bodien, a former mayor of Daly City, was replaced on the county parks and recreation commission by Brisbane businessman Dick C. Schroeder.

Bodien resigned because of illness. His term was due to expire January 1, 1965.

Charles (Gus) Ford, superintendent of the Daly City Water department, was replaced on the county civil service commission by South San Francisco businessman Ray Columbo.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, who nominated Columbo, praised Ford for a "splendid job" as a commissioner during the three years he served.

Fitzgerald explained that he could not reappoint Ford because Ford no longer lives in his district. Daly City was taken out of Fitzgerald's district by a realignment of the boundaries last year.

Columbo of 1981 Glen avenue, San Bruno, is president of the Italian American association.

Youth Rally To See Film

"The Grass Gets Hurt," a new, dramatic color movie filmed in Africa, will be premiered at a Greater San Francisco Youth for Christ rally at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the War Memorial auditorium at McAllister street and Van Ness avenue in San Francisco.

New Officers Are Installed

Dr. Jack Lucetti has been installed as president of the Cypress Hills Men's club last week.

Others taking office were Alex Sola, vice president; Bob Wyman, secretary, and Tom Asseretto, treasurer.

Peter Markovich, in behalf of the members presented a desk set to outgoing president Nate Pearlman.

Annex Bid Is Opposed

The board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High school district has voted to reaffirm its stand against annexing the former Christian Ranch area.

The board contended that if the district expands its boundaries southward, Hickey boulevard should be the boundary between the district and the South San Francisco Unified school district.

The vote came after the board received a petition from the only registered voter in the Christen area, asking that the area be removed from the jurisdiction of the South San Francisco district.

The wind is blowing and the weather's cold . . . it's a night for a cheery bean supper. Canned beans and ground beef combine with apricot halves for a delicious skillet dish. Season with cinnamon and cloves and serve with thick slices of bread and coffee gelatin.

A Skillet Dish For Rainy Day

It's a cold and rainy night . . . a time to have a homey supper by the fire. And what could be more appropriate than the most regional and universal of foods — real home-style beans.

Canned beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce combines two of America's most favorite and thrifty foods. Beans, themselves, so long a part of our history, have also made fame around the world. The jewelers' carat owes its origin to the bean. The bean of the "kuara" plant in Africa was so uniform in size and weight that it was used as a standard for weighing gold.

Beans, today, are worth their weight in nutrition, containing important quantities of protein and the B vitamins. Thus, they add both flavor and goodness to the daily diet.

For our winter night's supper, canned beans and ground beef combine with canned apricot halves for a delicious skillet dish. Cheerfully seasoned with cinnamon and cloves, it's bound to be asked for again and again. Serve with thick slices of French bread and coffee gelatin for dessert.

Winter Night Skillet

¼ cup sliced celery
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (1 pound) beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce
½ cup canned apricot halves, drained
Generous dash cinnamon
Dash ground cloves

In saucepan, cook celery in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Try Shrimp, Green Beans With Ginger

You may have tried shrimp and green beans with Ginger. If not, why not?

Shrimp and Green Beans with Ginger
Steamed Rice
Pineapple Almond Cookies
Chinese Tea

SHRIMP AND GREEN BEANS WITH GINGER

1 pound (20 to 30) raw shrimp, shelled and deveined
1 pound snap beans, cut diagonally in 1-inch lengths
Boiling water and salt
4 teaspoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
¼ cup cold water
1 beef bouillon cube
1 large clove garlic, crushed
1 tablespoon very thin strips candied ginger (rinsed in hot water before slicing)
¾ cup oil

Dry shrimp on paper toweling. In a 10-inch skillet gently boil beans with 1 cup boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt until tender — about 10 minutes; drain. In a pint measure or small mixing bowl, stir together until smooth the cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, sugar, soy sauce and cold water. Add bouillon cube, 1 cup boiling water, garlic and ginger; stir until cube dissolves. In the clean dry 10-inch skillet, heat oil; add shrimp and cook over moderate heat for a few minutes; turning with tongs or wide spatula, until cooked through. Add the cornstarch mixture; cook and stir over low heat until thickened and clear. Mix in dranied beans; reheat gently. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Ham 'n' Egg Pudding Is Good Starter

A good starter for a winter breakfast is a Ham 'n' Egg Pudding, ideal for cool, or rainy mornings. Simple but hearty.

HAM 'N EGG PUDDING

1 cup diced cooked ham
2 cups milk, scalded
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 eggs, separated

Combine ham, milk, butter, bread crumbs, salt, and pepper. Stir in egg yolks. Beat egg whites until they are stiff, but not dry. Fold egg whites into egg yolk mixture. Pour into 12 by 8 by 2 inch baking dish that has been rubbed with butter. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes or until firm to the touch. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

These Meatballs Hit a Bull's-eye

Wonderful way to warm up after skating, skiing or a brisk stroll in the shivery outdoors: hot, mulled cider with cinnamon-stick stirrers, plus something delicious from the oven. Apple turnovers, for instance, made in minutes from the newest item in your grocer's dairy case. No recipe needed—the package includes fresh dough, filling, and creamy icing, ready to put together and bake. And here's how you mull the cider:

Mulled Cider

2 quarts apple cider
2 teaspoons whole allspice
2 teaspoons whole cloves
4 cinnamon sticks

Yield: 2 quarts.

Pour cider into large saucepan; add spices, tied loosely in porous cloth. Cover; simmer 20 minutes. Remove spices. Serve hot with twist of orange peel in each cup. Use whole cinnamon sticks as stirrers.

VALENTINE MOOD is set by this cheery, Cherry Cake and Pie. Way to a man's heart is well known; this one is good for the eyes, too.

Valentine's a Cherry Pie-Cake

It was as long ago as 1872, when the book Willis Parton by Fannie Fern made famous the line that "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." This is as true today as it was then. Valentine's Day is a very good time to show that the route to your man's heart, after a hearty dinner of beef and baked potatoes, is this Cherry Cheese Cake Pie. It's a pie and a cake—a perfect valentine dessert designed to show off your culinary talents and inspire love of the home life in the man of your choice!

This cheese cake is made in a pie plate, but without a crust. The rich cheese custard bakes to golden perfection, forming a delicate crust of its own. Once the cake is cooled, open a can of cherry pie filling and spoon and spread its contents over the baked cheese mixture. A fluff of dairy sour cream around the edge and perky slivers of toasted almonds completes the dessert and makes it a picture perfect ending to your meal.

Try this brightly crowned pie in February for the first time, then plan to serve it again with another canned fruit pie filling on top for your Springtime parties. It's good with hot, spiced tea as the accompanying beverage as we've shown here or partnered with a well-iced fruit drink.

CHERRY CHEESE CAKE PIE

- 2 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
- 3 eggs
- 2-3 cups sugar
- ⅛ teaspoon almond extract
- 1 No. 2 can (2½ cups) cherry pie filling
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- ¼ cup toasted slivered almonds

Beat cheese until light and creamy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add sugar and flavoring. Beat until thick and lemon-colored, about 5 minutes. Pour into greased 9-inch pie plate. Bake at 325 degrees for 50 minutes; cool. Top with cherry pie filling. Spoon sour cream around edge and sprinkle with toasted almonds.

Hit the Spot

Hot sandwiches hit the spot these days. Try this one: In skillet, cook 2 tablespoons each chopped green pepper and onion in a tablespoon butter for a few minutes. Add a pound of ground beef; brown. Stir in a 10¾-ounce can beef gravy, ¼ cup ketchup, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ⅛ teaspoon each celery salt and garlic salt, and dash pepper. Cook about 15 minutes or until desired consistency. Stir now and then. Serve on toasted buns to 6.

Cocoa-Mix Cookies Use Instant Mix

One of the ready-mixes is used in this recipe.

COCOA-MIX COOKIES

- ½ cup soft butter or margarine
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup instant cocoa mix
- 1 egg
- 1 cup flour
- ½ cup ,about) chopped pecans

Beat together thoroughly the butter, sugar, cocoa mix and egg. Add flour; stir until blended. Cover and chill for several hours or overnight. Using a level tablespoon of dough for each, shape into small balls. Roll, pressin gslightly, in pecans. Bake, 2 inches apart, on ungreased cookie sheets in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 30.

Winter Warmer For the Sierra

The ever-popular hamburger made its debut at the St. Louis Fair of 1903-04, but it has traveled a long and juicy road since that time. Today, hungry you and I consume more hamburger than any other one type of meat.

The spiciness of Tabasco liquid red pepper seasoning sparks both the individual meat loaves and their warm blanket of sauce.

Bull's Eye Meat Balls score high in protein and nourishment, and make an easy mark on the family food budget. This novel variation on the hamburger theme combines good ground chuck with a hidden surprise of hard-cooked egg. The beef is blended with bread crumbs, eggs, milk, salt and thyme, and the mixture is then shaped around the eggs and baked. Canned tomato sauce is poured over the meat balls for the last 10 minutes' cooking time.

Bull's Eye Meat Balls

- 2 eggs
- ⅔ cup dry bread crumbs
- ½ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¾ teaspoon Tabasco, divided
- ¼ teaspoon thyme
- 1½ pounds ground chuck
- 6 hard-cooked eggs
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce

Beat eggs in mixing bowl. Stir in bread crumbs, milk, salt, ½ teaspoon of the Tabasco and thyme. Add meat and mix well. Divide mixture into 6 portions. Form meat around hard-cooked eggs to cover eggs completely. Place meat balls in shallow baking dish and bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 30 minutes. Combine tomato sauce and remaining ½ teaspoon Tabasco. Pour over meat balls and bake 10 minutes longer.

YIELD: 6 servings.

New Executive Post for Foster's Henry Solomon

Henry Solomon

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN ORDER; Mr. Henry C. Solomon of 1219 Homewood avenue, San Mateo, was named president of the Fosters Lunch System Ltd. on January 1, succeeding Mr. Desmond Garrioch.

Mr. Solomon's career with Foster's started as cook's helper in 1939. His advancement through the years was a rapid one.

I first met Henry when he was general manager of the Cliff House in San Francisco, some years ago, when the late Max Baer did a Sunday morning radio show from there—and I was the agency for it. It was through Henry's cooperation that we were able to entertain such big name stars as Jimmy Durante, Jack Dempsey, Sophie Tucker, and countless others.

Enjoyed a recent chat with Mr. Solomon at Foster's Lunch System Ltd. and he's the same smiling gent, sparked with many ideas for his company's future. One of his main concerns is the San Mateo Foster's Pancake and Chicken House, plus Moar's Cafeteria (a part of the Foster's chain located in the Hillsdale Shopping area).

Let me hasten to say that Foster's Pancake and Chicken House does not limit the menu to pancakes and chicken. Along with a daily luncheon special (11 a.m. to 2 p.m., except Sunday), two full course dinners, namely roast turkey and pot roast, are served in a "Bring the family" price bracket of just $2.50; children under 12, $1.25.

Sparkling, stainless steel equipment, excellent service, and an inviting decor and atmosphere await your visit, whether your choice is to dine in or to take advantage of the Foster's to-go service. Plenty of parking space.

YOU WILL SEE MANY STAGE, MOVIE AND SOCIAL PEOPLE among the evening crowds at Johnny Kan's at the Hyatt House. Kan's, a recent restaurant addition to the Burlingame Hyatt House, will delight you, both decor and palate-wise . . . R. C. Cushing, account executive of the commercial division of the Minneapolis Honeywell Company, was given a testimonial luncheon at Phil Lehr's Steakery before his transfer to their Denver branch. Cushing was with the San Francisco Honeywell office for 29 years . . . At Omar Khayyam's you may slice your own cheese for hors d'oeuvres in the cocktail lounge. Makes a tasty before and after dinner tastem . . . Luncheon, as well as dinner, is served at Nick Finocchio's New Tivoli, popular North Beach Italian restaurant (not open Tuesdays) . . . Folks planning a plane trip out of town can schedule their luncheon or dinner at the Brentwood Lodge—it's only 10 minutes to the International Airport . . . With Buddy Greco soon to debut into the Fairmont Hotel Venetian Room, you can be sure he'll be a dining visitor at Bertolucci's (he and Larry Bertolucci are close friends) . . .

Johnny Kan

HILLSDALE INN OWNERS, ROY NELSON AND FRED WILLIAMS, have what might be called a "Thursday Special." On this date, they give "one dollar off on a champagne dinner", if you tell them how you found your way to the Hillsdale Inn. In case any of you happen to read this and decide to make this your dine out stop, be sure and mention your ol' BRIGHT LIGHTER and receive one dollar credit. Dancing in the Lancaster Room to the tunes of the well-known Norsemen every Friday evening. Yes, sir, the Hillsdale Inn is going great and well deserves your patronage . . . The art of Chinese cooking is perfection at the Charm Garden restaurant, home of the Loo family. Plans are under way to promote many of their products (such as salad dressing and Key Sauce) in the various markets. Mr. Loo has held cooking classes in the neighborhood teaching the art of Chinese cooking . . .

Roy Nelson

RON GIANNOTTI has set February 4 and 5 as grand opening nights for his new Surf House restaurant. However, the club is now open and doing business in both restaurant and cocktail lounge . . . Joe Marcellino's orchestra plays for dancing in Lucien Sabella's beautiful Fisherman's Wharf Capri Room. This is a recording group, if I ever heard one, and it's too bad Joseph has never taken time out to make a few records . . . In answer to a few inquiries: Yes, the Valdoro is the former Red Lantern—with many changes, decor and menu-wise. Cocktails are now served. Lunches start at $1; dinner served Monday through Saturday from 5 p.m. . . . The services of Monte Navarra are available for full orchestra, combo or accordion. A phone call to LY 3-3640 puts you in touch . . . Breakfast, lunch or dinner service at the Princeton Inn, as usual, with dancing on weekends to the music of Al Dote's orchestra . . . If

Ron Giannotti

Talent — and oodles of it. That's what sets apart the new musical revue at Finocchio's in San Francisco as one of the most lavish and entertaining shows this club has devised in many a year.

Titled "Academy Awards in Song," it is extremely unique in a presentation of award-winning songs of recent years, starting with 1957. The costuming is a grand array of glamorous gowns all made of crepe paper.

Outstanding performances are given by Elton Paris in his novel two-voice singing; the great Lucian as the male Sophie Tucker; Francis & Blair in an uproariously funny impersonation of Spanish senoritas; and Reggie Dahl, who impersonates a Parisian Ballerina as well as a most graceful dancing gal.

LaVerne Cummings and Al St. Claire, stellar singers, are outstanding. The wide variety of dances constitute a feature of the show, thanks to Juan Jose, Flamenco star; Stormy Lee, more exotic than ever in a classy strip-tease art, and Robin Price, who does about the shakingest twist imaginable.

Activity at Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant continues — and in the right direction — up, up and up. Next business venture under Mr. Licata's direction will be the soon-to-open delicatessen which, according to reports, will serve everything from bagels to chocolate-coated grasshoppers. The new addition will be located right next door to the restaurant.

Sheraton Villa Has a New Luncheon Site

The exciting changes are coming fast and furiously at the elegant Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn in San Mateo. Bloody Mary's, the always-humming bar, is such a phenomenally popular innovation that Manager Frank Dennison is having luncheon served there Monday through Friday.

A special menu is featured which includes hot dishes — such as Crepes Madras, Pepper Steak Polynesian and the superb Chicken Pot Pie, along with tasty sandwiches.

A recent diner at the China Garden opened a fortune cookie for dessert which read: "You will meet a dark woman. She will smile at you. You will give her money. She will be our cashier."

My face is still a bit red after what happened to Edith Lehr the last two times her picture was to appear in Bright Lights column (her hubby owns Lew Lehr's Steakery in the Marina). Once, her name appeared under the picture of Charlie Mapes; another time, under her sister-in-law's picture. However, I won't give up. This week, Edith, we "ride again" with another try. Good luck.

Enrico Romano, Pacifica restaurateur, says he's not a disgruntled tax payer, but he sent his check in — mailed to "Tax Bureau, San Francisco City Haul."

Keith Williamson "Delivers The Goods"

Hats off to my pal Keith Williamson, the "Burlingame Chicken King."

Having just moved my office to El Camino Real, San Mateo, last Monday eve, I decided to work late—and the rains came. Man, did they ever come! The motor on my Stutz Bearcat was so flooded that I couldn't get started to my neighbor's restaurant, Vince's Italian and Sea Foods, for dinner one block away.

What to do! The natural thing was to read "Bright Lights" to solve the problem. There, staring back at me, was Keith's advertisement — "Home Delivery."

Phoned DIamond 2-9101 and placed an order. Through "muck and mire" of the storm, the delivery was made (piping hot) to the office in a short 30 minutes.

Emerson Murfee, host and owner of Villa Chartier, reports more people dined here during the holiday period than at any time in the 39-year history of the popular restaurant. In addition to main dining room, guests may enjoy the popular and informal Fireside Room adjoining the cocktail lounge; there are seven private rooms for meetings, banquets, luncheons, parties and dinners.

San Francisco has long been famous as a tourist "target" — and one of the main North Beach attractions for the new-in-town is Luz Garcia's colorful Sinaloa.

This 1416 Powell street cantina is complimented the world over for its authentic Mexican atmosphere and all-Latin floor shows.

Currently featured are Raul Martinez, Latin vocal great; Raquel and Carlo, exciting Flamenco dancers, and a newcomer in the "form" of Gladys Garcia.

Chef's Salad Bowls are pop requests at Uncle John's Pancake Houses — especially for luncheon. Of course, pancakes are served at all hours.

Weekend for Relaxation

Took a little drive, last weekend, up to Barney's Casino in Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada, to relax and enjoy my favorite indoor sport —"Keno."

Better Business

Credit Changes Family Living

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

THE FINANCING of consumer contracts and money lending is today a highly competitive business. The extensive use of credit by middle-income people is one of the greatest changes in family living in our time.

The majority of money lending agencies operate under rigid government supervision. Banks are under state or federal charters; co-operative banks work under state charter and supervision; savings and loan companies operate under federal charter and supervision and, in some states, under a state license and state supervision.

Small loan companies and insurance companies are under state supervision and license. Some states require the companies who provide purchase credit on automobiles and other consumer goods to meet special regulations. California has such special regulations.

A PERSON shopping for credit will find many different types of credit sources, each varying in their suitability for the credit shopper's particular use. Business has long used bank credit and merchandise credit to save and to make money.

The middle class 1964 family is learning to use today's abundant credit facilities to their best advantage.

The credit shopper can borrow money, and he must realize that whatever type of credit he chooses, personal loan or installment buying, through conditional sales contract, a finance agency, mortgage loan, borrowing on collateral or from a small loan company, he really is borrowing money.

AN INDIVIDUAL or business with good credit rating has little trouble in obtaining satisfactory credit terms. Careful observation of the signed contract and reasonable promptness in meeting credit obligations is the best way to establish good credit rating.

Good credit rating is equally as important to the individual as to the big businessman. All credit grantors check with local credit bureaus. Again the individual or business makes its own credit record.

The credit bureau records — they do not make credit records, such notes on a credit shopper's record as "slow but satisfactory" usually does not seriously harm, but a repossession or a collection suit will.

CREDIT is not considerated advantageous if the borrower is already "overloaded" and not able to meet current financial obligations.

The chief purpose of a credit interview, or investigation, is to ascertain that the applicant is a good credit prospect and not already "overloaded."

It follows that the greater the risk, the higher the finance charges, and the more the credit shopper will eventually pay usually people with poor credit for his merchandise. It is usually people with poor credit ratings who get trapped in unfair and illegal transactions.

Legitimate companies cannot operate profitably in areas where the small loan rate is set too low. The loan shark thrives in areas where adequate small loan legislation does not exist.

The purpose of small loan legislation is to see that lending agencies have a set fair rate for both borrower and lender. Such legislation, designed to see that lending agencies operate responsibly, is known as "ceiling" on the rate or charge. The rate may be less, but no more than specified.

Where legal regulations apply to rates on small loans, these regulations do not apply to loans above the amount legally specified as a small loan.

The Better Business Bureau does not give legal advice but will provide factual information to anyone with a credit problem.

RICHARD T. SNYDER, 19 Park Manor drive, Daly City, has been promoted to credit officer at Wells Fargo Bank's branch office at Third and Revere streets in San Francisco. Snyder, 41, joined the bank in 1951 and has been assigned at the Civic Center office in San Francisco for the past four years.

Better Business Bureau Moves

The Better Business Bureau of San Mateo county has moved its office from 3333 South El Camino Real to larger quarters at 53 North San Mateo drive in San Mateo. New telephone number is 347-1251.

The bureau adedd Homer C. McCullough to the staff as special representative. He will call on businessmen in the county for memberships and report the needs of the expanding organization of business.

The sales department will be headed by Mrs. Hazel Fall.

The sun, moon and tide tables show the hours of the day, numbered consecutively from 01:00 (1 a.m.) to 24:00 (midnight) instead of using 12 hours twice foliowed by a.m. or p.m. Noon is 12:00. 1 p.m. is 13:00. This is the practice followed by the army, navy and all government tide tables and almanacs.

Times and heights of tides at San Mateo Bridge, California. Furnished by Marine Exchange, Inc., from Coast and Geodetic Survey Data. Half Moon Bay tide 2 hours and 10 minutes earlier.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of the occurrence commencing with the early morning tide and the successive tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns at heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart surroundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U .S. Coast and Geodetic Survey).

Unique Hillsborough Ranch
Yes—These days it is hard to find FIVE Bedrooms, a paneled FAMILY ROOM plus a SEPARATE SUITE with FOURTH Bath at a reasonable price in Hillsborough. It is especially difficult when the home is well located and surrounded by a pretty, easily maintained garden. More so—when there is a super-de luxe all-electric kitchen and a lot of carpets included in the asking price of $64,750. IT'S SPOTLESS. The owners are transferred and will give quick occupancy.
